Re: Website Consulting

Dear Mr. Gill,

When we first created our website we began working with a designer who later proved unable to completely implement the functional, dynamic and inspirational website we envisioned. After spending thousands of dollars and over a year attempting to complete the project, we were finally forced to look for alternatives or even completely start over!

After hearing a glowing recommendation from one of your customers, we made the decision to have you work in conjunction with our current designers to complete the project. Your integrity and desire to solve our issues were immediately proven. You were able to lead and guide them towards viable solutions. Your cost-saving suggestions, support and follow-through led to successfully accomplishing our goals.

This “temporary” partnership with you began over a year ago. Since then, our website has been substantially enhanced and has surpassed our first designs and visions of this vital tool. You have assisted us with both state of the art technology as well as simple updates with expertise and timing. Your billing practices have been both fair and generous.

We are thankful to be able to work with Godly individuals such as yourself who honor Him through honest and excellent service to others!

Blessings,

Greg and Brenda Im
